

Can't find your deer?

A less-than-perfect shot?

No blood trail?

Train your dog to find wounded game!

The Dog Bone™ Game Recovery System...

... gives you everything you need to successfully train virtually any dog (any age) to track and find wounded game. Should you ever not be able to locate an animal you've shot, your dog will be able to trail that animal and help you recover it before it spoils or coyotes get to it first!

Developed by Jeremy Moore, professional dog trainer who specializes in training dogs to find deer and deer sheds!

Dog Bone™

Train your dog to track wounded game!

The Dog Bone™ Game Recovery System gives you everything you need to train your dog to find wounded game

RealHide™ Deer Hide Drag - an actual piece of real deer hide that you'll use to put down a trail for your dog to follow

Drag Line - 10 feet of durable line with which you drag the deer hide

Drag Clip - specially designed clip to attach the deer hide drag to the drag line; also used when doing "liver drags" as a part of training

BloodTrail™ Training Scent (2 oz.) - a liquid blood trailing scent that's made from real deer blood and which you use to mimic a blood trail; comes in a 2 oz. dripper bottle

Training Manual - a complete, easy-to-follow guide, written by renowned dog trainer Jeremy Moore, that will give you everything you'll need to know to train your dog to find wounded game using the Dog Bone Game Recovery Kit

Training Leash - (sold separately and not pictured) specifically designed for tracking in heavy cover by utilizing a rigid, tangle resistant design that maximizes dog control during the tracking process
